Ice Queens

For more than six years Chicks with Picks has been showing women how much fun can be had on a wall of ice. Held at the mountain resort towns of Ouray, Colo., and North Conway, N.H., these women-only ice-climbing clinics teach adventure-seekers how to tackle ice climbing in a "fun, safe, supportive and non-intimidating environment," promises Chicks founder Kim Reynolds—all while raising money for local women's shelters ($75,000 has been donated so far).

Offerings for '06 include a revamped "Veteran Betty" class with a participant-to-guide ratio of 2-to-1. Five different ability levels, from newbie to highly skilled, are welcomed. Cost includes lodging (double-occupancy), meals, demo gear and a Chicks T-shirt. Register or learn more at www.chickswithpicks.net.
