What's the difference between a brewery, micro-brewery, and brew-pub?

A brewery is a building or establishment for brewing beer or other malt liquors, especially the building where the brewing is done.

A micro-brewery is a brewery producing less than 15,000 barrels per year and usually concentrating on exotic or high quality beer.

A brew-pub is a commercial establishment that brews its own beer for sales on and off the premises and is typically combined with a restaurant.

New Hampshire Brewery History

1860s

New Hampshire became home to three or four large-scale breweries, including the mega brewery of Frank Jones in Portsmouth, who claimed to be the world's largest producer of ale.

1860s

Frank Jones' brother started True Jones Brewery in Manchester, which serviced the mill workers.

1917

The big breweries, in New Hampshire and all over the United States, steamed ahead until Prohibition when legal production was halted.

1933

When Prohibition was lifted, the Frank Jones brewery was revived by Eldridge Brewing.

1950

Frank Jones Brewery, in its second incarnation, closed for good.

1970

Brewing in the state stopped until Anheuser-Busch moved into Merrimack producing pilsner-style lagers.

1991

Portsmouth Brewery became New Hampshire's first micro-brewery.

Tuckerman Brewing Company, brewers of Tuckerman Pale Ale, Headwall Alt and limited edition 6288 Stout, is a micro-brewery located in Conway. Brewery tours and tastings are available every Saturday at 3PM.

FUN FACT:

Hops, the flower or cone of Humulus lupulus, are added for bittering early in the beer's heating process, and different hop varieties are added at later stages for flavor and aroma.

1993

Smuttynose Brewing, named for an island among the Isles of Shoals, opened its doors in Portsmouth.

1996

Redhook Ale Brewery (established in Seattle, WA in 1982) joined the New Hampshire beer scene.

1998

Tuckerman Brewing Company and Moat Mountain Smoke House & Brewery both opened in North Conway.

NEW HAMPSHIRE'S BREWERY RECIPES

REDHOOK ALE BREWERY LONG HAMMER IPA SWEET & SPICY MARINADE

For chicken or steak

INGREDIENTS:

- 1½ cups Redhook Long Hammer IPA, preferably flat
- 1 tbsp dry mustard
- 1 tsp ground ginger
- 3 tbsp soy sauce
- 1/8 tsp Tabasco
- 2 tbsp honey
- 2 cloves fresh pressed garlic

DIRECTIONS:

Combine all ingredients with a whisk. Submerge raw chicken or steak in marinade. With two forks, stab meat all over on both sides, tenderizing and letting marinade permeate. Let meat marinate as long as possible before grilling. When grilling, continue to marinate with a brush or spoon as meat cooks.

WOODSTOCK INN BREWERY SPENT GRAIN BREAD

INGREDIENTS:

- ¾ cup warm water
- 2 tbsp yeast
- ¾ cup butter
- ¾ cup milk
- 1 cup apple juice
- ¼ cup molasses
- 2 oz sugar
- 1 tbsp salt
- 1½ cups spent grain
- 1 cup wheat flour
- 4-5 cups white flour

DIRECTIONS:

Put warm water in mixing bowl, sprinkle with yeast and let dissolve. In saucepan melt butter with milk. After butter is melted in the hot milk remove from stove and add apple juice, molasses, salt and sugar. By now, yeast has started to work; so add butter and milk etc., mixture, and then add spent grain and wheat flour. Start to mix and add white flour gradually until dough is workable and does not stick to your hands. Knead dough for several minutes. Dough should not stick to your hands. Let rise to double its size. Knock back to original size. Make into 2 loaves, put on a sheet pan lined with parchment paper that it sprinkled with corn meal. Brush loaves with egg wash and sprinkle with spent grain (not included in ingredient list) and let rise. Cook at 325°F for about 45 minutes.

WHITE BIRCH BREWING INDULGENT BEEF

(courtesy of Aaron Bassett, Burrito Me)

INGREDIENTS:

- 1 chuck roast or pot roast
- 5 poblano peppers
- 2 medium onions
- 1 bottle of White Birch Indulgence Stout
- salt to taste

DIRECTIONS:

Salt the roast and brown all sides in a dutch oven over high heat. It should get pretty smoky. Set the roast aside and lower the heat to medium. Slice the peppers and onions while the pan cools. Add the peppers and onions to the pan and cook until browned, stirring frequently. Add the browned roast and pour in enough Indulgence to come 1/3 of the way up the roast. Cover the dutch oven and place in a 275°F oven for 3-5 hours. Drink the rest of the bottle of Indulgence while you wait. When the meat falls apart when you poke at it with a fork, it's done!

THE PORTSMOUTH BREWERY'S ALEHOUSE MUSSELS

Serves two as an appetizer

INGREDIENTS:

- 2 tbsp olive oil
- 2 shallots, minced
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 2 lbs mussels, inspected for liveliness and cleaned
- 2 cup Dirty Blonde Ale
- 1 large red ripe tomato, chopped
- 1 tsp oregano
- salt and freshly ground pepper to taste
- 3 tbsp whole butter
- 1 tbsp chopped fresh basil

DIRECTIONS:

Sweat the shallots and garlic with the olive oil in a large sauté pan over a medium high flame. When they just begin to brown, add the mussels, Dirty Blonde Ale, chopped tomato, oregano, salt and pepper. Sauté the mussels until they begin to open, then add the butter and chopped basil. Continue to cook until all of the mussels are opened and taste for seasoning. Transfer the mussels and broth to a serving bowl. Make sure you have plenty of crusty bread and cold beer to go along with them!
