NEW HAMPSHIRE ADDS NEW OUTDOOR ADVENTURE, GLAMPING AND RETAIL FOR VISITORS THIS SPRING

New offerings and programming complement many reasons to visit the state at springtime

Concord, N.H. – (April 14, 2022) – The New Hampshire Division of Travel and Tourism Development (DTTD) welcomes travelers headed to the Granite State this spring seeking wide open spaces and road trip adventures with new recreation, shopping and lodging offerings statewide. As the ice melts, temperatures slowly start to rise and daffodils bloom, outdoor experiences abound across New Hampshire’s seven distinct regions – especially in the White Mountains.

From new trails and e-bikes to glamping accommodations, here’s what’s new this season:

Recreation
- Rockhopper Races in the White Mountains has introduced new guided trail running experiences and trail running clinics. The clinics include the two-day White Mountain Hut Traverse, covering 25 miles a day through the Great Gulf Wilderness and Presidential Range, with breathtaking views atop Mount Lafayette; the classic Presidential Traverse, featuring a run up the summit of Mount Washington down to the Lake of Clouds Hut; and a Custom White Mountains Experience for private groups, offering a fully supported trail running experience. White Mountains
- In Gorham, travelers can grab a new e-bike to hit the trails, courtesy of Northeast ATVs. The electric bikes offer an extra boost, ideal for visitors attempting to mount hilly terrain or go long distances. From here, visitors can access the Presidential Rail Trail, a 32-mile trail offering picturesque views of the Presidential Mountain Range. White Mountains

Shopping
- A favorite among residents and visitors since the late 1800s, Cannell’s Country Store returns refreshed with renovations and expanded store offerings. Modernizing its historic feel, the store has added homemade breakfast selections, such as pastries and coffee, grab and go salads and charcuteries, beer, wine, and soups for hikers on the go. White Mountains

- An upscale renovation of a Main Street favorite is now open in the historic town of Plymouth. “New” Berry’s on the Common is an eclectic marketplace that features children’s games, handmade wooden goods, recycled lamps, original artwork and more. After a major renovation to restore the original 1940s tin ceiling and add recessed outdoor seating overlooking the charming streetscape, “New” Berry’s is open to the public and ready to flourish. Lakes Region

Lodging
• This spring, Huttopia White Mountains in Albany introduces Vista – the long-awaited glamping and tiny home experience that provides accommodations for up to five people without compromising comfort. Offering connection to the outdoors in an unforgettable glamping experience, amenities also include electricity, bathrooms, BBQ, kitchens, and screened porches. White Mountains

New Hampshire’s “Granite State Promise” campaign encourages visitors to plan ahead, be patient, and be respectful. In addition to planning ahead to ensure a safe and more enjoyable adventure, the program asks visitors to make a commitment to care for the state to ensure New Hampshire can be enjoyed for generations to come.

New Hampshire offers an abundance of destinations and activities geared toward the outdoor enthusiast, from hiking, biking and more than 100 waterfalls, to tax-free shopping along quaint downtown streets, craft wineries and breweries with outdoor seating, and more.
